

Capitalize Proper Nouns

Always capitalize a proper noun. If a proper noun contains more than one word, capitalize the first and last words, as well as any other main words like nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives, and adverbs.

On Monday, Marcus visited the Statue of Liberty.

In May, the Smith family will go to the Museum of Natural History.

Circle the first letter of the proper nouns that should be capitalized. Then rewrite the sentence correctly.

1. Our neighbor, mr. allen, works at a restaurant called noodles and tea.

2. Is parkland mall on the corner of market street and jerome avenue?

3. Aunt nora and uncle jeff met in new york.

4. Have you visited the amherst sports and fitness center yet?

5. My teacher asked dr. ingram to tell us about the international space station.

6. Mom and dad both work at the kenlake building on seahawk avenue.
